

Dr. Michael Horne

Dr. Michael Horne is a powerful and engaging speaker with the ability to captivate, motivate and inspire supervisors at any level. With over 30 years of dynamic, diverse, and engaging facilitation experience, Dr. Horne has sparked new ideas and commitments from supervisors and managers from all industries to firmly embrace team building as a critical and purposeful leadership tool within their organizations. Consulting with organizations from all types, he has helped others value team building as an important dynamic to use during any organizational change initiative. Dr. Horne believes that when today's leaders embrace the idea that employees work best in teams, the outcomes can be both beneficial but also challenging. Leaders purposefully sponsor effective team building initiatives that enable improved communication and collaboration, better interpersonal relationships, and ultimately, improved individual, team, and organizational productivity.

Education, Professional Training, Affiliations:

- Troy University, M.S. in Human Resources Management
- Wayland Baptist University, B.S. in Occupational Education
- Certified Challenges of Leadership Facilitator
- Certified Situational Leadership II Facilitator

If you want to learn how to build lasting relationships with your team based on trust and accountability, then this workshop is for you!